AND THE WINNER IS...

Nov. 18, Grand Hyatt

In a night celebrating the best of New York City's building industry, A. Eugene Kohn, the chairman of Kohn Pedersen Fox Associates, and Jay Badame, the president and chief operating officer of Tishman Construction, took home the 2015 Industry Recognition awards from the New York Building Congress. "In this room are subcontractors who have worked with Tishman for many years, who I respect and consider friends," Mr. Badame said during his acceptance. "There are clients and [government] agencies here — people that we work with every day of the week who help us build this city."

The Nov. 18 event at the Grand Hyatt was attended by more than 1,000 people. Those included State Senate Majority Leader John Flanagan, Lt. Gov. Kathy Hochul and Mary Ann Tighe, the chief executive officer of CBRE's New York tri-state region. The Association of Contracting Plumbers of the City of New York took home the George A.
