

FiveThirtyEight

October 30, 2017

<https://fivethirtyeight.com/features/significant-digits-for-monday-oct-30-2017/>

Significant Digits For Monday, Oct. 30, 2017

You're reading Significant Digits, a daily digest of the numbers tucked inside the news.

15 million square feet

That's the amount of office space being added in Manhattan between 2017 and 2019 according to a new report from the New York Building Congress. A further 2 million square feet going up in Brooklyn and Queens in the same time period. Right now Midtown Manhattan is enjoying a rent decrease as the market absorbs new supply and more competition. [Bloomberg]